Dramatic Beauty

The Valiant's tall opening, and flush to the floor platform are welcome features to anybody familiar with real site-built masonry fireplaces. The fireplace's refractory brick panels with "split" brick profile are molded from actual hand-cut firebrick in a traditional stacked, running bond pattern. Then they're individually cast in terra cotta colored refractory and hand detailed to enhance the glow of active flames.

Absolute Quality

Brick panels are cast 1" thick for extra heat insulation and "zero clearance" installation capability. The attractive heat deflection hood also protects mantles or other over-hearth materials from heat. Full coverage chain-mesh pull screens keep out what shouldn't come near the sensitive burner systems and high temperatures of a vent free heater. Yet when open, they tuck nicely away behind hidden screen pockets for a full view of the beautiful Design Dynamics Logset inside.

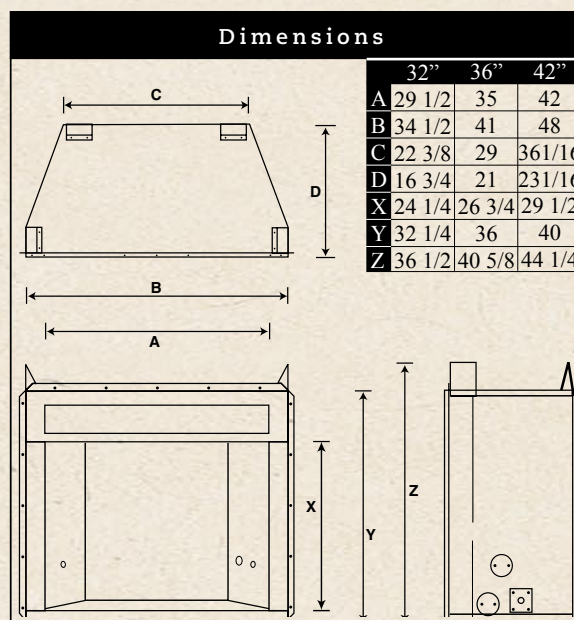

Convenient & Solid Installation

With no venting construction and minimum clearance requirements, the Valiant is a breeze to install. We've included gas knockouts on both sides as well as the rear of the fireplace for your choice of plumbing, and the ability to completely conceal the gas connection to the logset. The Valiant also includes full length drywall stops and nailing flanges for a clean and solid installation.

Standard Features:
